PRESIDENT FREEDMAN SAYS THE SEW YORKS NEED NOT RICK.

A Pinn to Suppress Talkative Fighters. In view of the fact that more than half of e magnates of the National League have declared themselves in favor of suppressing kicking on the diamond, it seems probable that the others will either fall in line or balk over situation before the coming spring meeting is held. President Freedman of the New York Club had something new to say about THE SUN'S agitation vesterday, and his statements will be read with interest, no doubt, by patrons of the game here who have decried kicking in the

"The New York Club as it is at present constituted," said Freedman, "is unalterably opworld. We have a team of players who do not have to kick at the umpires in order to win, for they are the strongest nine in the League to day. I have said on several occasions that the New Yorks were always instructed last scason not to kick, because the club officials be-lieved in clean ball. It is an injustice to single out Joyce as a chronic kicker, for he is nothing of the kind. He has merely stood up for his rights in the Western cities, where the New Yorks were shamefully treated by parjisan crowds and umpires."

'How is it that the New Yorks were fined by the umpires last year more than any other team in the League!" asked the reporter.

"Simply because the umpires were unfair and were trying to curry favor with certain ersons in the League who were antagonistic to my club," was the reply. "The New Yorks outrageously treated in this respect, and if it occurs again I will make such a kick myself that somebody will have to stand from

"Will you go to the coming League meeting prepared to back up Messrs, Soden, Reach, Spalding, Brush, Hart, Ebbets, Robison, and others in their fight against rowdy ball?" The New York Club is always an advocate of fair play and clean ball, and is opposed to kicking in any form." "Will you stand with Soden of Boston if he makes a proposition to kill rowdyism?" "So far as Soden is concerned I'll stand for anything he does at the League meeting." As Soden has already put himself on record as an enemy of the kickers, it is thought that the

New York Club's President will fall in line when the meeting convenes. Freedman's statement that Joyce is not a chronic kicker will not exactly meet the approval of the unfortunate individuals who served on the unpire staff last year. Joyce is a clever team manager, as the good work of the New Yorks last season proved. He has said recently that he will sit on the beach all of next season and will not play, in which event, if the rules are strictly enforced, he will not even receive the slight privilege of a captain to argue with an unpire on the misinterpretation of the rules. That the New Yorks can play good ball without kicking was shown in the week's series of games with the Bostons last summer, which were probably more enjoyable from a spectator's standpoint, than any others in the schedule. But memorable exhibitions between the locals and the Brooklyns, Chicagos, Pittsburgs, Louisvilles and Cincinnatis were not what might have been termed ideal contests. New York Club's President will fall in line

The use of airy persifiage by kickers on the field toward one another was the cause of a funny exchange of compliments a few years are between "Dad" Clarke, the talkative pitcher, and Fred Tenney, the Boston's star first baseman. The latter had just graduated from Brown University and had a fine crop of "football" hair, such as is worn by most college athletes. When he made his first appearance here with the Bostons, Clarke, who was pitching for the New Yorks, concluded to have some fun with Tenney.

with Tenney.
"Say, there!" yelled "Dad." as the ex-Brown man walked to the bench, "you college-bred guy, why don't yer cut that hair off and look Tenney turned quickly around to Clarke and, taking hold of the latter's collar, exclaimed, after stowing a piece of tobacco under his arter stowing is piece tongue;

"If you're talking to me, you cheap duck, I'll take you under the grand'stand after the game and make you look like a bar of salt!"
That was too much for "Jarke, who was never known to fight anybody, and, as Tenney walked aft, "Dad," after recovering his breath, growled: "College bred, eh! Why, that fellow never went to night school."

When Stagg promulgated his new Western college football rules it was suggested in Tirk Sun that, in the interest of harmony, it might be a good idea to invite Stagg to attend the session of the Football Rules Committee at the University A.°C. on Feb. 19. Alexander Moffatt, Princeton's representative on 'he committee, said yesterday that he thought Stagg or some other Western delegate should be invited to come here, so that the complications between the East and West could be smoothed over. It is said that the University of Pennsylvania and Cornell are also in favor of recognising the West, with Harvard neutral. It will be in the nature of a surprise, though, to mining the West, with Harvard neutral, it will be in the nature of a surprise, though, to learn that the chief objection to Stagg's recognition or that of any other Western delegate, it is said, comes from Yalc, where Stagg became noted as a football and baseball player and in other respects helped to uphold the honor of the Blue. It cannot be denied that Stagg knows as much about football as any college couch in America, but for some reason Vale deep not recogn anytons to have beinger. Stagg knows as much about football as any college coach in America, but for some reason Yale does not seem anxious to have his ideas on the game considered. A Yale man who knows what the situation is at New Haven said yesterday that the efforts of Stagg to be recognized in the East are based solely upon a desire to gain further notoriety, and not so much to benefit the game of football. Stagg it is admitted by this New Haven graduate knows football well enough, but some of his methods in booming the eleven of the University of Chicago are being used against him. Yale football men believe that the present committee is fully capable of maxing whatever changes in the rules may be necessary witnesset the addition of more members.

"If they let Stagg in or anybody from the West," and a football man yesterday, "they'll be pestered with more applications from all ever the country. It's a question whether the committee won't be divided on this point, at that."

committee won't be divided.

So far as Harvard's representative on the committee is concerned, it was said yesterday that the rule makers themselves wanted Sears to remain, but that in the event of a possible change, Cameron Forbes, the head coach at Cambridge, would be asked to serve by Capt. Dibbles.

Pugilists who do their fighting through the sewapapers are likely to come to grief in due time if a certain movement started by Western sporting writers comes to a head. The absurd press notices, fake challenges and laughable interviewe which have been sent out by the managers of Corbett, Fitzsimmons, McCoy and other actor-pugilists, have not only disgusted the public in various cities of the country, but have also caused no end of protests from sporting editors who have been overrun with typewritten documents. It was first pointed out in The Sux that these fighters, with all their newspaper controversy, were simply looking for notoriety in order to boom their theatrical ventures. At St. Louis the newspaper men have reached a definite conclusion to boycott not only these persistent talkers, but all other fighters who do not mean to fight. It is suggested that no mention whatever shall be made of pugilists, no matter who they may be unless they are actually matched to engage in ring encounters. The point has been brought up that when Fitzsimmons and Corbett were at Carson they signed an agreement with a certain newspaper not to talk to any outsiders and declined to give any news to reporters who were not authorized to pay for it. It has been pointed out that Fitz and Corbett had a "fake" meeting on the road at Carson for which they were paid $500 a piece to allow the alleged facts to be published by two papers only. The report is also recalled that whenever reporters went to see Fitzsimmons at Cook's ranch they had to pay 25 centled that whenever reporters went to see Fitzsimmons at Cook's ranch they had to pay 25 centled that whenever reporters went to see Fitzsimmons at Cook's ranch they had to pay 25 centled that whenever reporters went to see Fitzsimmons and town fitzs will be a guelched without ceremony. Corbett's latest move for notoricty is the alleged signing of strices with some unknown sport to fisch Fitzsim

"Spike" Sullivan, the Boston fighter, who has just returned from England, is a shrowd manager of his own affairs. One day Sullivan was telling of his bank account when Charley White, the well-known trainer, broke into the coveraction with this joining remark;

Fil tell you what I'll do. I'll make all your matches, give all the purse money to you that you win and half what I make in bets on the side; How's that?

"Well," replied Sullivan, "I'll tell yer what I'll do wid yer, Charley, If you'll give me all yer make in bets on the side, all the purse money, an' pays me livin' expenses, yer kin manage me as much as yer please. If it's glory yer after, it's the chance of yer life."

Sullivan has always been his own manager and is a rare exception to the rule in this respect.

F. H. Maple, a member of the Thames Rowing Club, the Iondon Rowing Club, and the noted Leanders, has been visiting in Ithaca, and, incidentally, has held informal conferences with Courtney and other Cornell rowing men. When asked if he was arranging to have the winner of the big Oxford-Cambridge race come here this year to row Cornell, Maple said no, but he did not deny the possibility of a visit of a mixed English crew, made up of members of both Oxford and Cambridge. Maple says that English rowing men are hoping that Yale and Cornell will measure blades in another race.

Talk of an Opposition Ticket in the U. S. G. A. -Cambridge News. There is talk of a ticket in opposition to the one reported by the Nominating Committee of the U. S. G. A. It may be decided on at the meeting of the Metropolitan Golf Association on next Tuesday night, and if this is not done a concerted movement will be taken to urge the ncrease of the membership of the U. S. G. A. Executive Committee from five to nine or twelve. Those who urge an opposition ticket have as a rule no objection to offer against the re-election for a second term of President Curtis, Secretary Kerr, or Vice-President Thomas, but they object to the election of Vice-President MacDonald and Treasurer Fowle. MacDonald, they say, has been in of-fice since the organization of the U. S. G. A. on Dec. 22, 1894, and while he has been a credit-able representative of the West, they hold that a healthy rotation in office should be the policy of the organization. H. C. Chatfield Taylor who is a player of American development and, as President of the Onwentaia Golf Club, very prominent in Chicago golfing circles, is spoken, of as a worthy successor to MacDonald. The objection to the election of Fowle is that as now made up not a club in Westchester county, or indeed in the State, is represented on the regular ticket, and in view of the fact that both the men's and women's championships will probably be held in Westchester county there is a feeling that it is more important at this time to give a representation to Westchester than to Philadelphia. Perhaps the easiest plan would be to increase the number of the Executive Committee, so that not only Westchester, but also Long Island, the Pacific coast, the South, and Boston might gain a representation, as well as the localities named on the tisket of the Nominating Committee. who is a player of American developmen

Peter Graham, the professional of the Cambridge Golf Club, whose links are used by the Harvard players, is here. It is possible that he Harvard players, is here. It is possible that he may join a club in the metropolitan district. Graham learned the game while a caddie at Canoustie, Scotland, where he often worked for "roung" Tom Morris, and unconsciously formed his game on the style of that great golfer. Graham says that Harvard will make a strong effort to capture the intercollegiate team championship the coming spring. He regards W. Bayard Cutting, Jr., and Joseph H. Choate, Jr., as the best of the Harvard golfers, but John G. Thoro, who, it will be remembered, played in the amateur championship of 1895 from the Cambridge Club, in his coinion is the best player who uses the links. Quincy A. Shaw, Jr., of the Myopia Hunt Club, Graham believes to be the best amateur golfer in Massachusetts.

HOWARD GOULD'S NEW TACHT. An American Boat Through and Through-

WILMINGTON, Jan. 27.-Howard Gould's big three-deck steam yacht Niagara, which is being constructed at the Harlan & Hollingsworth's Wilmington yards, will be launched in the early part of April. The yacht is not only American in design but is being built entirely of American material. Her dimensions are: Length over all, 270 feet; water line, 245 feet; beam, 36 feet; depth, 28 feet from the spar deck and 20 feet from the main deck. Her lowest freeboard amidships is 13 feet and at the bows 18 feet. Her tonnage is 1,900. She will have three decks, the main one being of steel.

The engines will be of the triple expansion type, with cylinders 18, 28, and 45 inches, with a 30-inch stroke of piston. These engines will rive twin screws with steam supplied by three Scotch boilers, with a working pressure of 160 pounds, which will drive the yacht at a speed of fourteen knots an hour. Her coal capacity will be 400 tops.

Among the many new features will be the lounging deck for the crew. The designers seem to have solved a problem in a way that is both pleasant to owner and crew. com Vacht Mayflower Sold to an Englishma

The steam yacht Mayflower, which was re-cently built by the Clydebank Company for the late Ogden Goeiet, was sold a few days ago to an English yachtsman and is being fitted out at amuton in about three weeks. The Mayflower was designed by George L. Watson and is considered one of the most magnificent pleasure vessels aflost. She is a twin sorew steel vessel, schooner-rigged, and has a short pole bowsprit. Her principal dimensions are: Length over all, 320 feet; length on water line, 275 feet; beam, 37 feet 6 inches; draught, 17 feet 6 inches. Her motive power consists of two triple expansion engines with four cylinders, each 22½x38x40x 40, with 27-inch stroke of piston. On her trial trip the vessel made over seventeen knots.

NEW ROCHELLE, Jan. 27.—Intimate friends of C. Oliver Iselin discredit the rumor that he has bought the Mayflower or will take an active part in yachting affairs this year, owing to the death of his mother last November. Just before the rogatta at Newport last summer Mr. Iselin made an effort to charter the Mayflower, but changed his mind at the last moment and took the Interpid. The meeting was called for the purpose of settling up the affairs of the board be-fore the annual meeting, which will be held in the banquet hall of the Waldorf-Astoria on Feb. 10. There was an informal talk relative to the new clubhouse at Sesgate, which is almost fin-ished and will be opened formally on May 10. The subject of officers for 1898 was not discussed.

She said the next Women's congress would be held at Philadelphia from April 27 to 30.

Seward in the course of the evolutions. When the various companies fell in for the grand march the sight was a most inspiriting one and the occupants was a most inspiriting one and the occupants of the balconies and other points of vantage overlooking the drill floor showed their appreciation in volleys of applause. The great feature, however, from a sontimental and patriotic standpoint, was the distribution of State decorations for faithful service. As each man stepped to the front to receive the extra bar for his service medal his rank was lost sight of for the moment and the applause for the private soldiers was as genuine and hearty as for the officers.

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 27 .- Yale's crew and trackteam candidates were set to work this afternoon by Capt. Whitney of the 'varsity eight and Capt. Perkins of the athletic team. There were on the team, the unusually large number being caused by the compulsory rule requiring training for the athletic teams or else compulsory gymnastic drill for the freshman class.

Bob Cook and Capt. Whitney took charge of the crew candidates. There were about thirty-five for the 'varsity, most of them being leading candidates for the class crews who have been training since last fall. Capt. Whitney and Cook decided that they would be unable to handle all the 'varsity and freshmen candidates in training, and the freshmen were cut down from sixty-five to forty-cight men. The lightweights were, in general, the men dropped.

Leonard M. Thomas of Philadelphia, who has been rowing 6 in the freshman crew, to-day broke his collar bone while practicing tricks in the gymnasium. He was one of the most promising candidates of the class. This is the first serious accident of the year at the Yale gymnasium.

They requested that more time be given to them for examination of the property. The committee will meet again next week.

Only nine figures out of the twenty-one that constitute the championship series were skated, the remainder being reserved for this evening's competition.

Keane had been seriously ill for some weeks past, but, although advised by his physician not

The contest began with the plainer figures, the programme being arranged so as to thoroughly test the proficiency of the skaters without overtaxing their strength.

Horner was outclassed from the start, while Ward is hardly up to championship form yet. The latter is the youngest skater among the half dozen, being only 16 years of age. He displayed considerable grace, and may be a dangerous factor in future contests.

The officials conducting the championship are: Committee—S. J. Montgomery, James B. Story, and R. J. Schaefer. Judges—Louis Rubenstein, Montreal A. A. A. F. P. Good, Brooklyn, and R. J. Schaefer, N. A. S. A. Scorers—S. J. Montgomery, N. A. S. A., and Mortimer Bisbop, N. Y. A. C.

A fine game of hockey was played at the Clermont Avenue Rink, Brooklyn, last night be-tween the Yale team and the seven of the Skating Club of Brooklyn. It was fast hockey from start to finish, a trifle rougher than it ought to have been at times, perhaps. The Montclairs were scheduled to meet the visitors, but owing Capt. Perkins of the athletic team. There were more than 100 men who wished to try for places on the team, the unusually large number being caused by the compulsory rule requiring training for the athletic teams or else compulsory symmastic drill for the freshman class.

Bob Cook and Capt. Whitney took charge of the crew candidates. There were about thirty five for the 'varsity most of them being leading candidates for the class crews who have been training since last fall. Capt. Whitney and Cook decided that they would be unable to handle all the 'varsity and freshmen candidates in training, and the freshmen were cut down from sixty-five to forty-cieht men. The hockey teams of Naval Reserves and Stevens Institute furnished thirty minutes o rare sport to a large number of spectators at the Ice Palace last night. The reserves won by the score of 4 goals to 0, but victory only came after the hardest kind of a battle. The contest was fast and snappy from start to finish, both teams figuring in brilliant plays. The Hoboken boys, however, were unfortunate in shooting the goal, which practically accounts for their defeat. They had the puck in their opponents' territory most of the time. The teams lined up as follows:

NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN. tertion of State Bacing Officials—The Con-

Chief Consul Walter Jenkins of the New York State Division of the L. A. W. has finally started work on the selection of committees for the current year. It is expected that A. D. Walte of Coboes will be asked to serve another term as Chairman of the State Racing Board. George Needham of Brooklyn, the captain of the Kings County Wheelmen, has been asked to serve on the board as a representative of this section. Needham, who is well posted on racing and its government, will make a valuable official. He will fill the position made vacant by the retirement of Will R. Pitman. There is some talk of the reappointment of Walter Wilson of Buffalo as one of the up-State members of the board, although it is felt by League members that the fact of his having officiated at the recent six-day race in Madison Square Garden should debar him. It is the intention to increase the membership of the board from three to five members this year. The additional members will be selected from racing sections in the upper part of the State.

The resignation of A. O. McGarrett as Chairman of the Records Committee of the Century Road Club of America has excited considerable talk among the members of the club. McGarrett indorsed and put into effect the rule compelling century riders to be checked at every twenty-five miles, and his retirement from the head of the committee is due to the opposition of the Executive Committee of the club to this rule. In defence of the rule which is objected to he says: rule. In defence of the rule to he says:

"I believe that the Records Committee is in a position to know what is necessary to prove the riding of a member, and that no other persons except the State centurions are in a similar position, and I am sure that they will acknowledge the rule. I know of many cases where the State centurions have had trouble with the claims for bars because there was not enough evidence that the riders had gone the full distance, and I am certain that every State centurion will favor the new rule. I received notification from President Skinkle stating that the 25-mile checking injury to the club, and the Executive Committee demanded that it be rescinded at once. A telegram vote by the committee was taken, and we decided not to rescind the rule, on the grounds that it is proper and that the Executive Committee has no power to interfere with our rights. Personally I do not think that the rule is working an injury to the club, nor can I believe that any fair-minded member of the club will think so. The committee will insist that the rule as adopted be lived up to."

In view of the construction of a number of new bicycle tracks in this vicinity the L. A. W. will be forced to adopt some new regulations this sesson relating to granting sanctions for the same dates to various tracks situated close together. Under the present racing rules exception is taken to granting sanctions for tournaments on tracks within ten miles of one another. On holidays the rule is not enforced, but as a result of the arrangements now being made to hold races in all sections of Greater New York on all Saturdays and holidays during the year some new regulations will have to be adopted.

Advices were received in this city resterday that the representative of one of the new local bleycle tracks, who is now in Paris, had signed Billy Michael and Jack Chinn, two well-known foreigners, to race here this year. Billy Michael is a brother of the noted Jimmy Michael, and has shown remarkable speed. He is expected to prove as fast as his brother. Chinn has a great reputation as a professional racer.

The Jersey City cycle show at Hasbrouck Hall is meeting with success. The attendance last night was gratifying to the management. There was a continuous crowd about the exhibits, which in several instances showed marked signs of improvement over the opening day. At all the booths there is an abundance of souvenirs to be had, and it seemed as though every young woman in the place was trying to outdo the others in covering the fronts of their coats with those of the button variety. The display of wheels is very good, including triplets and "quads" of both the chain and chainless patterns. The show will continue until Saturday. NOTES.

BASKETBALL.

The A. A. U. and Philadelphia Men Come to PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.-The local basketball authorities and three representatives of the Amateur Athletic Union held a conference in this city to-night, the idea being to make some sort of deal whereby the basketball men would athletic organization. The conference was in many respects a farce.

The A. A. U. was represented by Dr. Luther The A. A. U. was represented by Dr. Luther Guitek, James E. Sullivan, and John W. Kelly of the Atlantic Association. They each made speeches and afterward put themselves up for a bombardment of questions. The basketball men made their points with impunity, and several times greatly embarrassed the A. A. U. representatives. The latter scored, however, when they said that any wheel club disqualified by the A. A. U. would stand disqualified by the L. A. W. This will frighten at least four teams into registration.

A representative from the Trenton team explained that his organization had accepted A. A. U. gospel, but that it fell short. He said that his men could not play another Trenton team for fear of disqualification, because the other had not registered. This seemed to be the popular feeling, and when the A. A. U. men found they could make no impression they left, after being in conference a little over an hour. They asked for another meeting within a short time, which the local men granted. Philadelphia has more able teams than any city in the country, and the A. A. U. cannot give up the struggle here without the hardest kind of a fight.

Berkeley Basketball Team Beinstated.

That the Registration Committee of the A. A. U. can occasionally be as merciful as it is strong wa shown yesterday when the Berkeley School basket snown yeaserus when the Directly School Danker, ball team, disqualified on Monday, was duly rein-stated. Manager Forney of the team made the appli-cation and met all the requirements of the case so satisfactorily that the committee at once relented. The players restored to favor are E. Carlton Gran-berry, P. H. Christensen, A. P. Potter, Jr., E. de Woif Perry, Mortimer P. Arnold, and J. Albert Forney, They are now eligible to play with all registered teams.

The New Rochelle A. C. would like to arrange games with reg stered teams, to be played away from home. Address C. F. Kistinger, manager, 229 Main street, New Rochelle, N. Y. The girls' tram of the Adelphi Academy will play what promises to be an unusually interesting match game this evening at the Jamaca High School gym basium, with the girls' team of that institution. The crack Bay Ridge A. C. team played the Insti-tutes at Institute Hall. Newark, on Wednesday night before a large crowd. The Bay lidge boys started off with a rush, but the Institutes won by a score of 10 The return game between the Huguenot A. C. of New Rochelle and the Young Men's institute last night re-suited in a victory for the latter by a score of 22 points to 8. The Huguenots were outplayed at every stage.
